Organization: Camplus Iberica (Spain and Portugal)

Camplus is the top housing provider for university students in Southern Europe: 8,000 beds in 13 Italian and Spanish cities. Camplus was founded to help off-campus university students find a home while studying. Our goal is to find the ideal solution for anyone who wants to feel at home during their stay: whether for study, work or travel. We are offering a place where students, young professionals and travellers can have that feeling of “home away from home”, even for a single night, and let their full personality emerge just like at home. Beautiful, safe places, each with their own distinctive character, where you will be met by teams ready to support and serve living communities.
